Terms and Conditions

Before an author submit details of his/her manuscript to the COAS for publishing, it is necessary to firstly read and agree to the following Terms and Conditions:

- The material you have submitted is the author's own creative and/or well researched work.
- At all times the right of the author to the intellectual copyright of his/her or their work, will be maintained.
- The COAS guarantee the privacy and intellectual property of the author and maintain said privacy at all times.
- No information regarding any author's personal details will be disclosed to any third parties without the express permission of said author.
- No disclosure of email addresses or similar contact data will be allowed without the express permission being granted by the author.
- The COAS may use the personal details of the author for correspondence.

All book types accepted

The COAS accepts for online publishing complete academic books, such as monographs, textbooks, proceedings, edited books, book summaries, research reports, dissertations, theses, and the other academic issues (Open Books).

Reviewing process

The COAS Editorial Rules define that author should choose one reviewer, and the COAS Editorial Council chooses another two reviewers (the COAS reviewing is double-blind). The reviewing process at COAS lasts minimum one month. The author chosen reviewer should do reviewing in the COAS reviewing form.

Freely available online

The COAS Open Books will be freely and immediately available online as pdf files and will be labeled as Open Access.

Visibility mode

The COAS Open Books are exposed freely at the COAS website with no additional charge, ensuring complete visibility worldwide. All the COAS Open Books will be applied for indexing in the Directory of Open Access Books (DOAB), Web of Science, Scopus and in the other international databases.

The authors of the books accepted for publishing should get the ORCID number (www.orcid.org), and Thompson-Reuters researcher ID (www.researcherid.com).

Authors' copyright

The COAS Open Books are published under the Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License (CC BY) license, so they can be reused and redistributed as long as the original author is attributed.

Formats of the books

E-book is published only online as pdf file, with regular ISBN and DOI (there is no additional costs for these elements), and all key information are exposed at the e-book landing page.

Pricing

The costs of publishing when the COAS appears as publisher are 1 EUR per page, and 0.7 EUR for each table, graph, and picture.

The author should enable proof-reading for his/her monograph. If the author want it to be done in the COAS option of proof-reading, the cost of proof-reading is 6 EUR per page.

If the author wants to post his/her previously published book via COAS website (published by other publisher), the cost of this posting is 0.2 EUR per page. This option should be followed by permission of the original publisher.
